ABOUT

REGGAE RAPIDS

Roots reggae. Hip-hop influence. Jam-band energy.

Based in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Reggae Rapids brings a fresh blend of roots reggae, hip-hop, and jam-band influences to stages across the Midwest. Built around original music and an energetic live show, the band balances laid-back grooves with dynamic performances that bring people together.

With a growing catalog of original releases, festival appearances, and regional performances, Reggae Rapids continues to carve out its own place in the Midwest reggae scene. The band has appeared alongside acts including The Wailers, Nappy Roots, Kash'd Out, Wookiefoot, Eljuri, Jon Wayne & The Pain, Aaron Kamm + The One Drops, & many more. They are the host band for both the annual Farm Fresh Reggae Music + Arts Festival, and they host a Bob Marley Birthday Bash every winter.

Whether on a festival stage or in an intimate venue, Reggae Rapids brings original songs, deep grooves, and a live experience built around connection, rhythm, and community.
